

Ducati and Riello UPS: the partnership continues in 2025

MotoGP sponsorship agreement renewed between the two Italian technological excellences

Legnago, 29 January 2025. The Ducati Lenovo Team and Riello UPS, a brand of the Riello Elettronica group, a global player in the production of static uninterruptible power supplies, photovoltaic inverters and energy storage systems, proudly announce the renewal of their sponsorship for the 2025 MotoGP World Championship.

In the upcoming season, Riello UPS will be on the iconic fairing of the red bikes from Borgo Panigale, on the suit of the three-time World Champion Francesco Bagnaia and the newcomer, the eight-time world champion Marc Marquez, as well as on the uniform of the Team members.

Throughout the GP season and the testing sessions Riello UPS supports Ducati in power management and ensuring reliability allowing a reduction in consumption. Thanks to highly efficient and reliable UPS, we are able to reduce energy consumption, minimizing leaks and adapting the operating mode to the load variations. This type of approach guarantees a significant reduction in CO2 emissions.

Riello UPS technologies supports Ducati to power extremely critical loads, such as simulators, telemetry servers and infrastructures in the paddocks, ensuring continuous and 100% flawless operations.

Fabio Passuello, Riello UPS CEO

“We shared since years our values with Ducati. Both companies are synonymous with advanced technology, reliability and successes both in international markets and on the track. We also share a strong vocation for innovation: while Ducati constantly does so in competitions, Riello UPS develops highly energy-efficient UPS solutions, essential for powering the most critical technologies, even in motorsport. We are proud to continue this collaboration, which is not limited to sponsorship, but represents a true technological partnership”.

Luigi Dall’Igna, Ducati Corse General Manager

“We are thrilled to continue our journey with Riello UPS, a collaboration that, year by year, is enriched with increasingly ambitious goals, based on sharing fundamental values such as innovation and teamwork. Thanks to the support of Riello UPS, we are confident that we can proudly represent the Made in Italy excellence in the 2025 MotoGP World Championship”.
